

NEWS

June 2017

INSIDE SEATTLE

JUNE 2017 /// A GUIDE TO WHAT'S HAPPENING NOW IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD

SMACKDOWN

High-altitude cocktails

Choose between Seattle's coolest rooftop decks: a Middle Eastern-tinged bar or a galactic-chic lounge with ample sunbathing opportunities.

mbar

mbarseattle.com

VIBE

Seating is aplenty for anyone coming for after-work sips. (Our favorite: a swinging chair where you can sway and swoon over the water view.) An outdoor kitchen grills up specials, like trout with labneh and fenugreek brown butter and skirt steak au poivre with Sichuan peppercorn and fried potatoes.

VIEW

Sit eye to eye with the Olympic Mountains and gaze out on a 270° shot over Lake Union. Come on a Tuesday and cheer for your favorite Duck Dodge entrant from above.

MUST-TRY

Sure, the barkeeps mix a mean Mary the Vampire (lime vodka, tamarind, chile d'arbol, cucumber), but the cauliflower hummus will blow your sun hat right off.

Frolik Kitchen + Cocktails

frolik.motifseattle.com

VIBE

The expansive deck offers colorful lounge furniture and standing spots where you can peer over the edge at the cars caught in traffic along Fourth Avenue. Or huddle up next to the long, glass-enclosed fireplaces, since, let's be real, June evenings aren't really all that warm.

VIEW

The skyline and cityscape peek out from behind giant lampshades and hanging lights. It may only be on the fifth floor of hotel Motif Seattle, but the outdoor patio feels right in the thick of things.

MUST-TRY

No judgment here: The tasty Pear Ginger Mule in one hand and a table-tennis paddle in the other.

